4	I think more professional athletes will come to play in Japan. I feel this way for two reasons. First, I think professional sports such as soccer are becoming more popular in Japan. This means that professional teams are making more money, so they can offer famous foreign players bigger salaries. Second, Japan is becoming more international. Many people now speak English, and there are a lot of western products available, so foreign athletes can lead more comfortable lives. It is for these reasons that I think more foreign players will come to play professional sports in Japan.
