4	I think violent movies have a bad effect on people. I have two reasons for this. To begin with, violent movies may cause children to hurt themselves. This is because they often copy the scenes they see in movies. Next, violent movies may cause an increase in crime. People who see too many violent movies may start to believe violent behavior is acceptable. For example, they may think fighting is a way to solve problems they have with others. These are the reasons why I think violent movies have a bad effect on people.
