4	Thanks to technological advancement, we will soon be able to replace cash with electronic money. This should be carried out as soon as possible because it would both make society safer and benefit consumers. Doing away with cash would reduce crime. First, shops would not have to worry about counterfeit money anymore. More importantly, however, if everyone stopped using cash, there would be fewer opportunities for criminals to rob people and shops. Consumers would also benefit because they would not need to carry around bulky wallets full of bills and change, and there would be no need to go to banks to withdraw cash. Furthermore, electronic payments can be made more quickly, so lines to pay for purchases would be greatly reduced. Cash is becoming much less common these days, and the sooner it is eliminated, the sooner we can reduce crime and make things easier for consumers.
