4	I believe that people should stop buying plastic products both to keep our environment clean and to keep wild animals safe. First, plastic products cause damage to the environment. When these products are thrown away, many of them are burned at trash collection centers. This releases dangerous gases into the air. Second, plastics can harm wild animals. For instance, birds sometimes become trapped in plastic materials and die. Products made of natural materials would be safer for animals. Therefore, for these two reasons, people should no longer buy plastic products.
