4	I agree that people today should spend less time using the Internet. I have two reasons to support this opinion. To begin with, a lot of people who use the Internet too much do not spend enough time communicating with others. As a result, I think that many people's face-to-face communication skills are becoming weaker. Second, using the Internet for a long time is not healthy. People need to take the time to get sunshine and fresh air outside. In conclusion, I think that people should use the Internet less often.
