4	I agree that it will become more common for Japanese people to work overseas, and I have two reasons to support this opinion. First of all, more Japanese companies are trying to do business abroad. Because of this, Japanese people will have a variety of opportunities to work in foreign countries. Furthermore, the foreign language skills of Japanese people have improved. This allows them to communicate with foreign clients more easily than in the past. In summary, I feel it will become more common for Japanese people to work in foreign countries.
