4	I think the government should do more to protect old buildings with long histories. To begin with, these buildings are important for the study of history. For example, old castles and houses can tell us a lot about the lifestyles that people had in the past. In addition, old buildings with long histories encourage tourism. They can attract many tourists from all over the world, which has positive effects on local economies. It is for these two reasons that I think the government should play a more active role in protecting old buildings.
