4	I agree more needs to be done to improve public safety. I would like to explain my opinion in terms of crime and technology. Victims of violent crime can suffer from serious trauma, and the psychological effects of this trauma can last for a long time. Violent crime also causes increased tensions in local communities. To reduce such crime, more patrols by both police and volunteers are needed, and this will increase people's feeling of safety. The rise of technology also threatens public safety. People can use social media, for example, to bully or stalk others online. Moreover, advances in technology have made it easier for people's personal information to be stolen. Due to this, more laws are needed to limit how this technology is used. For these reasons, I think public safety should be further improved by reducing violent crime and making laws about new technology.
