4	I think that the number of people who rent a house together with others will increase in the future. I have two reasons for my opinion. First, people can save money by renting a house with others. This is because the cost of living can be shared by several people. Second, people can build friendships by helping each other. For example, when they have a problem, they will become better friends by solving it together. For these two reasons, I think more people will rent a house together with others in the future.
