4	I agree with the idea that college students should do internships. First, internships are good opportunities for college students to learn more about themselves. For example, they can find out what they are really good at and discover what kinds of jobs suit them. Second, internships help college students get the skills they will need after they graduate from college and start a career. For instance, college students can learn how to work with others in an office environment. For these reasons, I think college students should do internships.
