5	I think this is a good idea. First, students can study efficiently. Using smartphones, they can look up words more quickly than with traditional dictionaries. As a result, students can look up more words and save time. Second, using smartphones helps students understand words better. Students can easily find many example sentences from various sources, and this helps them understand the meanings of words clearly. Therefore, I think it is a good idea for students to look up words on their smartphones instead of their dictionaries.
