4	Local communities have begun replacing traditional streetlights with LED ones. They help reduce maintenance costs due to their longer lifespan and operating costs because they consume less electricity. However, some types of LEDs can disrupt residents' sleep because they are brighter and more focused. Also, the initial equipment and installation costs can be high.
5	I think it is a good idea. First, using AI in job interviews can ensure fairness by eliminating human biases that may affect the selection process. AI can evaluate candidates based only on their skills and qualifications, rather than personal factors. Second, hiring costs can be reduced. With an AI interviewer, companies can save both time and money because AI asks questions and evaluates candidates without people. Therefore, I think it is a good idea that companies use AI in job interviews.
