4	A global currency has been discussed recently. It could make traveling much easier and simplify business between countries. However, losing control over national currencies would make it difficult for each country to manage its own economic problems, and it would be hard for all nations to agree on fair rules because of their different needs.
5	I think this is a good idea. First, being able to purchase food from a vending machine is convenient. There is no need to shop at convenience stores or other stores in advance, and they can buy food even when cafeterias or stores at school are closed. Second, the school can earn revenue by having vending machines. The money can be used to improve the educational environment and facilities. Therefore, I think it is a good idea for schools to have vending machines where students can buy food such as bread and snacks.
