4	Bringing your own straws is becoming more popular around the world. Using them is a good way for people to help the environment. However, straws must be washed well because they can become dirty.
5	I think spending time alone is better for people. First, spending time alone allows people to relax. They need time to reduce stress from working or studying with people. Second, people can do things at their own pace. For example, they can look around shops as long as they like and do not have to wait for others.
