5	I think electric motorbikes for delivering mail in a local area will become more popular in the future. They are good for the environment because they do not make the air dirty. Is the post office open on weekends? Is it crowded every day?
6	Yes, I think so. First, children can receive a lot of good advice from their parents. This can help them develop the necessary skills to do the job. Second, children can learn about some of the problems they might have at work. They will hear about how their parents dealt with these difficult experiences.
