[Regarding the schedule]

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, Eiken will continue to offer an increased number of test dates for group sites to ensure that all candidates are given an opportunity to take the test. Based both on current conditions and the number of applicants for previous test sessions, we have determined the above schedule for the 2023-2024 academic year.

As it is difficult to predict future conditions, this information does not necessarily apply to the following academic year and beyond. Any necessary updates to the schedule will be promptly announced on our website.
